Wheat Marketing Quotas To Be Decided By June 26

Mr. Graves, Chairman of the Milam County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has designated one voting place in Milam County for the wheat referendum to be held June 25.

Listed below is the place where the eligible wheat growers of the County will indicate whether or not they want the wheat marketing quota program to continue in operation for the 1956 crop: MILAM COUNTY ASC OFFICE, CAMERON, TEXAS.

The final decision on whether or not marketing quota controls will apply to wheat produced in 1956 will be made by wheat growers on June 25.

According to the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, if two-thirds vote "yes," the support for the 1956 crop will probably be beween 75 and 82 percent of parity — the exact level will be announced befor the referendum. If more than one-third vote "no," the support will be 50 percent of parity. In any case, points out the committee, support will be available in the commercial wheat states only to those farmers who stay within their allotment. Texas is a commercial wheat state.

If, points out the committee, the vote is favoarble, market quotas will be in effect and growers who exceed their farm acreage allotment will be subject to a marketing penalty of 45 percent of parity on their excess wheat. If the vote decision. County ASC offices or committeemen can furnish detail-marketing quotas and no penalty for excess wheat.

Acreage allotments will be in effect for price support purposes even if marketing quotas are disapproved. The national acreage allotment for 1956 is 55 million acres — same as for 1955 — which is the minimum established by law.

The State ASC Committee urges all eligible voters to study the situation carefully and make their decision. County ASC offices or committeemen can furnish detailed information on the referendum.

-BENSON CUTS SUPPORT-

However Friday Agriculture Secretary Esra T. Benson set 1956 wheat price supports at the lowest dollar level since 1946. Congressional Democrats immediately accused him of trying to destroy the farm program.

Benson announced that next year's average support would be $1.81 a bushel, 76 per cent of the "fair" parity price; provided growers approve strict marketing quotas in a national referendum June 25.

If quotas are voted down; supports will drop to 50 per cent of parity; or about $1.19 a bushel.

Earlier, the Agriculture Department, forecast a 1955 wheat crop of 845,215,000 bushels, smallest in 12 years. The shrinking output is the result of a withering drouth earlier this year and sharp acreage cutbacks under the price support program.

Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Texas), No. 2 Democrat on the committee, said Benson may have figured "this was a good way to defeat controls, and it may very well have that result." He said "a farmer allowed only three-fourths of a fair price, and only three-fourths of a crop, can't be expected to be very happy about it."

Man – That's Some Tomato Plant!

H. F. Smith was slightly proud to show an amazing tomato plant to a Herald reporter Monday morning. The plant had over 90 tomatoes on it and was still covered with blooms.

Smith bought the hybrid vine in Temple and says that that was the only name on it.

Although there is a small stake at the main stalk, most of the vine is growing along the ground. The tomatoes are developing fully and are not deformed in any way.

Smith said that the plant got no special care other than a small amount of barnyard fertilizer and water.

Chamber of Commerce To Sponsor County Cotton Contest

The Crops and Conservation Committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce will continue the county-wide cotton contest with $100.00 as the first prize and $50.00 as the second prize, John A. Smith, Chairman of the committee said this week.

Smith said that the contest will be judged on the basis of yield, improved farm practices and records kept on the farm with the idea of increasing efficiency and yield in production. This contest has replaced the premium that has been awarded in the past to the farmer producing the first bale of cotton.

The contest will be judged by a judging committee and there must be a minimum of five acres in cultivation to qualify a person to enter the contest. It is restricted to dry land farming and is open to all age groups. The plot to be judged must be marked or staked off so that the judges will be able to identify the contest plot.

Closing date for entries is July 1, 1954. No farm or farmer will be eligible for prize money for two years after winning a cash prize, but can enter the contest for exhibition purposes.

Basis of scoring on the contest are as follows: (1) Yield 50 per cent, (2) Records 20 per cent and (3) Improved farm practices 30 per cent. In the improved farm practices, the following basis will be used:

Cropping system 5 per cent, soil and water conservation 5 per cent, planting state certified seed 5 per cent, control of insects 5 per cent, cultivation and control of weeds 5 per cent and application of fertilizer 5 per cent.

Lawyers Ask Court House Repairs

At a regular meeting of the Commissioners' Court of Milam County on Monday, June 13, a committee representing the Milam County Bar Association presented a resolution of that Association.

This resolution, which had been introduced by E. A. Camp, Rockdale attorney, and unanimously adopted by members of the Bar Association, requested the Commissioners' Court to engage the services of a competent engineer for the purpose of making an engineering appraisal of the County Courthouse and Jail.

The members of the committee pointed out that many complaints had been made recently by jurors about the condition of the Jury-room, the Courtroom, and the Courthouse in general. Also, this committee emphasized that the conditions at the County Jail were very bad due to the fact that this structure was in a poor state of repair, making it impossible to properly maintain it. Both of these structures are more than fifty years old.

The resolution, as explained to the Court, would have the Court to determine first whether the present structures could be repaired so as to be usable, and if not, what steps should be taken to replace them and the approximate cost.

The Commissioners' Court, after the resolution was presented, made a tour of inspection of the Jail and also authorized the County Judge to contact Geo. L. Dahl, Architects & Engineers, Dallas, Texas, to see whether that firm could furnish the information and survey desired. After the survey is completed the Court promised to consult with the Bar Association further about the matter.

Three Cameron Men Being Held In Bell County

Two of five Cameron men involved in a fight Wednesday evening at the Lake Lounge, near Belton, are still being held in the Bell County Jail, according to Milam County Sheriff Carl C. Black.

Bell County officials said that two counts of aggrivated assault had been filed against Darrell Shuffield. Sanders, Kenneth Wayne Shuffield and Swift were charged with disturbance and simple assault and Tapplin was charged with disturbance. Tapplin was picked up in Cameron by Sheriff Black after the others had been apprehended in Temple.

The altercation apparently began when the men argued with and then jumped on B. M. Van-Winkle, employe of the lounge. Darrell Shuffield, according to investigating officers, had beaten Van Winkle to his knees with a black jack when Van Winkle pulled his pocket knife to defend himself.

Frank Slider, elderly negro employe of the lounge, attempted to come to Van Winkles rescue. The men all turned on Slider. He ran to the barbecue pit and around the building where Darrell beat him up with his black jack.

Sheriff Black stated that the men had caused a disturbance in Cameron before going on to the Lake Lounge. He said that they had jumped on C. J. Albertelli, an insurance salesman, at Jack Logan's Service Station. Albertelli had one tooth knocked out and suffered a cut lip.

Sheriff Black said that charges had been filed in Cameron against Kenneth Wayne Shuffield for assault, two counts against Darrell Shuffield for fighting and the rest for drunkeness.

Black stated Friday morning that Kenneth Wayne Shuffield had plead not guilty to two charges of disturbing the peace and simple assault and was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond. Charles Edwin Swift was also returned to jail after he plead guilty to disturbing the peace and simple assault and was unable to pay the $400 fine placed against him.

Two other members of the group involved in the fight were released when their fines were paid. They were Albert Templin, fined $200 for disturbing the peace and Johnnie Sanders, Jr., fined $400 for disturbing the peace, and simple assault.

Darrell Shuffield, the other member of the gang, is still in Scott and White Hospital where he was treated for knife wounds after the fight. He has been charg-

The post office has certain requirements that it must uphold before employees can make the delivery of mail. Because of unnecessary footage involved, mail delivery at that particular area was impossible.

Alcoa's Rockdale Works Holds "Operation Alert – 1955" June 15

The demanding scream of an air raid alarm interrupted the work day at Alcoa's Rockdale Works on June 15, and all employees scurried for cover at their appointed shelter areas.

This was "Operation Alert — 1955" at the Rockdale Works. It was staged in conjunction with the second nation-wide civil defense exercise to test civil defense preparations, especially in cities and industrial areas.

While announcing the decision to participate in Operation Alert, Works Manager J. D. Harper said that the alert afforded an opportunity to test response to an emergency signal and to iron out any defects in the new Emergency Disaster Plan for the Rockdale Works. He urged all employees to give their complete cooperation to the practice alert.

"Although this is only a dry run on our emergency plan, the next time may be the real thing. It is to our advantage to know what to do in an emergency and to do it," Harper said.

Elsewhere in the country, forty-nine cities in the United States and territories have been selected as targets for mock atomic attacks during Operation Alert. In addition, seven more towns will be victims of surprise atomic attacks. Although no Texas cities are listed, it is probable that one in Texas will receive a surprise attack.

Based on the fact that it is best to plan for disaster before it strikes, a plan of action to be used in an emergency at the Rockdale Works has been formulated and set down in a booklet called "The Emergency Disaster Plan". Covered under the plan are not only air raid and fire but tornado and other weather disturbances. Mr. Harper is Coordinator of the plan and Production Superintendent R. R. Sugg is the Assistant Co-ordinator.

Today, and every day,

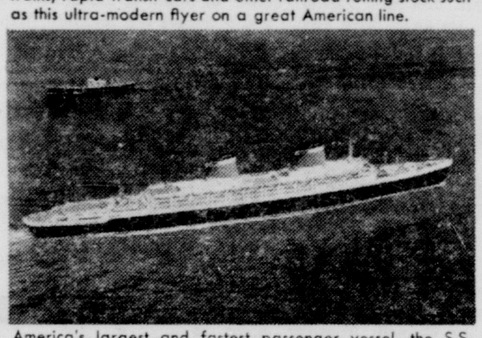
Texas Alcoans

are helping to keep

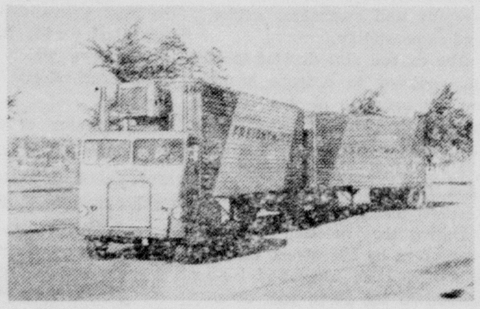
Americans on the move

Today a businessman can board an airliner . . . made lighter with Alcoa aluminum . . . and span the country in eight hours.

Alcoa aluminum is used extensively for tank cars, subway trains, rapid transit cars and other railroad rolling stock such as this ultra-modern flyer on a great American line.



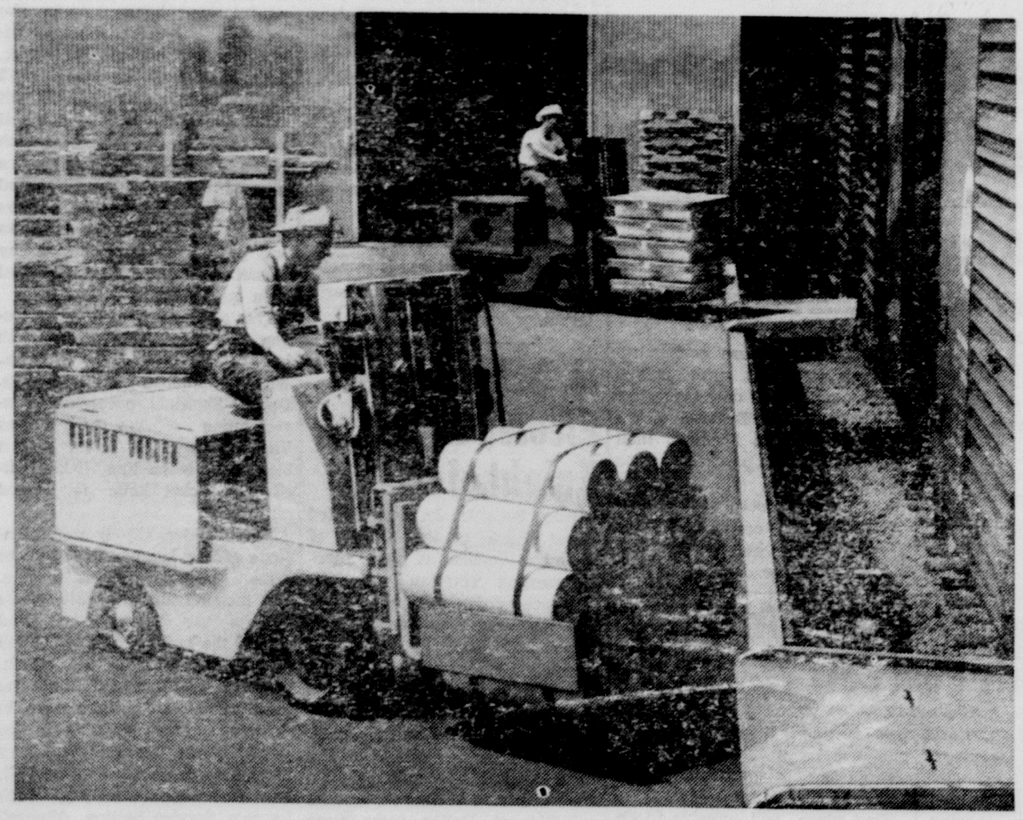
America's largest and fastest passenger vessel, the S.S. United States, contains more than 2,000 tons of Alcoa aluminum alloys. Her superstructure is the largest aluminum assembly ever built.



Aluminum truck trailer bodies, floors and wheels decrease dead weight, increase payload, minimize maintenance and wear, and extend tire life for many extra highway miles.

Aluminum extrusions, forgings, wire and cable, fasteners, sheet and castings are used extensively in the construction of motor buses. In this streamliner, more than 5,500 pounds of light-weight aluminum are employed.

American automobiles use aluminum in wheels, cylinder heads, bumper guards, radiators, window frames, trim, grilles, differential housings and many other parts.



TODAY, in every modern phase of travel and transportation, Alcoa aluminum is finding new uses . . . for greater safety and comfort, appearance and economy.

At the Rockdale Works, Alcoans are participating in the development of aluminum's use in the transportation industry . . . by producing primary aluminum and extrusion ingot which helps to build America's trucks, planes, trains, and automobiles and the many other useful products of aluminum.

The future of aluminum is promising, not only in transportation but in many other fields for which Alcoa continues to develop new applications of the light metal.

This growing use of aluminum means a growing demand for a product of Central Texas. It can mean a better future for us all.

Santa Fe Diamond Day Celebration In Temple June 29

It will look like a merry mixture in Temple June 29 when all of Central Texas celebrates the 75th year of the arrival of the Santa Fe railway in this area. Santa Fe Diamond Day will have the modern trins of today compared to the ancient of yesteryear. Oldsters of the Central Texas Pioneers Club will be spinning yarns about days gone by and the youngsters will be playing all over the Santa Fe Park. Senior ladies will take the parade of the young ladies in the beauty contest in their stride, for in this modern age, the elders have become accustomed to the antics of the youngsters.

One of the feature attractions of he day will be the annual horse show, sponsored by the Temple Longhorn Club. Three phases of this event include a quarter horse show at 1:00 o'clock. Longhorn Club officials claim that there will be more horseflesh shown on June 29 than has been seen in years.

General Chairman Frank W. Mayborn has estimated that there will be at least 20,000 persons in Temple on June 29 for the big tripie celebration. This marks the Diamond Anniversary of the coming of the Santa Fe railway to Central Texas; it is the annual meeting of the Central Texas Pioneers Club; it is Temple's Birthday.

Membership in Central Texas Pioneers Club is that the individual must be at least 50 years old and has lived in Central Texas for the past 20 years. There are no dues and no costs. Reservations have already been arriving from members, according to Pres. C. B. Parks. Secretary Fort Downs has asked that new applicants send him their membership reques's at once. Membership means that each year the proper tribute is paid to these senior citizens for having guided the younger citisens down the proper paths.

Parade Chairman Ralph Doshier has indicated that there will be several early day automobiles in the parade. He said that arrangements are being made to have tow car facilities available for those ancient crates that are unable to make the entire parade route. One of the old car owners, who would not allow his name to be used, said, "any of our old model cars in the parade will be able to make it, alright. That's the one thing that we ancient automobile owners are exremely proud of is the fact that we have our horseless carriages tuned up to the top degree of a modern hotrod. We'll make it alright, and you can tell Paraderman Doshier, just that!"

During the day Fred Gurley, President of the Santa Fe System, will present Temple with one of the last steam engines used in this area. Mayor Roy Strasburger will accept No. 3423 Pacific type 4-6-2 which was built in 1923 on behalf of Central Texas and the City of Temple. This engine will later be placed in Gober Park for the unborn generations to see what one of the old steam engines looked like in building this progressive area in the immediate past era.

Private Household Workers Included In Social Security

People who work in private households — even handy men who do work outside the house and baby-sitters who are paid as Little as $4.00 a week by one household employer may now have their cash wages count toward old-age and survivors insurance. Benefits to a worker retiring in the future will range from $30 to $108.50 a month; total family benefits can be as much as $200.

Under the amended law, which went into effect on Janury 1, 1955 the old requirement that a household worker must work on as many as 24 different days for one employer to have his cash wages reported to his social security account was done away with. Now, if a household employer pays her cook, maid, housekeeper, or gardner $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter of the year, she must report those wages for the worker's social security account. It does not matter how many or how few days the worker is employed in the household.

What this means is that any person employed in a private household is now building old-age and survivors insurance protection for himself and his family if he is paid at least $50 cash in a 3-month period by a household employer. If he is paid $50 or more cash wages in two or more households, he will get social security credit for those wages also. Wages other than cash — such as board and room — do not count. If the household work is done on a farm operated for profit, it also counts toward social security, but in a different way. A worker in a farm household must be paid at least $100 in cash wages in a year by the employer — just like hired hands who work on the farm.

In Texas Up Three Percent

Farm real estate values in Texas rose three percent between November and March and two percent during the 12 months ending March 1, according to a U. S. Department of Agriculture report.

Nationwide, the increase was one percent during the four month period and two percent for the year ending March 1.

Records of farm sales show, according to the report, that from 40 to 50 percent of all land purchases in the wheat areas were made to enlarge existing farms. In the central Corn Belt at least a third of all purchases were for this purpose.

With many farms in these areas still below the optimum size for maximum efficiency, this type of demand can be expected to have a bolstering effect on the level of land prices for some time the report suggested.

Narrative Report Of Milam County Health Unit

Compiled by Milam County Health Unit

Thirty-three persons who were found to have signs of tuberculosis during the February mass X-ray were examined by their family physicians and one previously unreported case was found.

A total of 46 out of the 79 suspects have been followed. Fifteen persons were found to have inactive disease, twenty-three are nontuberculous, two are still being evaluated, two were previously known active cases and four are new active cases.

One typhoid case was reported in May. The water supply comes from a deep well which supplies three families. The well, however, showed no contamination. No explanation as to the source of this case was determined.

Other communicable disease cases showed a seasonal decrease this month. The reported diseases were as follows: Gonorrhea 8, Measles 11, Pertussis 5, Streptococcal infections 39, Syphilis 1, Chickenpox 30 and Mumps 15.

Dr. Ernestine Boweno, Consulting Psychologist, Mental Health Division of the State Health Department will speak to one of the Cameron service clubs on June 23. An informal meeting will be held at the Milam County Health Unit at 10:00 a. m. for any persons who are interested in the field of Mental Health.

Regular routine inspections of food and other establishments have been made during the month of May. Considerable remodeling and redecorating has been noted in the food establishments of Milam County. Much new and modern equipment has been installed and the last of the old soda fountains has been replaced with a new one. The overall picture seems to indicate many improvements.

The Sanitarian was in conference with R. F. Holbert of the Food and Drug Division concerning some sanitary problems and improvements relative to food establishments and others.

All tourist courts and trailer parks in Milam County were inspected during the month of May. Approval placards for 1955 have been received by this office for all places that were recommended for approval, having met the minimum requirements. These placards will be delivered to the courts and trailer parks in early June.

Considerable work has been done by the Sanitarian for private premises, including treatment and testing private water supplies. More water supplies and private wells are being properly installed and sealed off each month. Numbers of workable septic systems have replaced surface toilets in the rural area and places that do not have access to municipal sewage systems.

All nuisance complaints have been promptly investigated as received by the unit office. Corrections were obtained in a majority of cases.

Plans have been formulated to space spray Cameron and other towns as soon as the weather conditions permit. This will be continued at regular intervals during the peak of fly and mosquito season.

The Municipal swimming pools in Cameron and Rockdale have been opened for the season. Both pools have been checked by the Sanitarian for safety.

Visitors for the month:

Fred Miller, V. D. Investigator, Texas State Department of Health Austin, Texas.

R. F. Holbert, Food and Drug Division, Texas State Department of Health, Austin, Texas.

Mrs. Nell Faulkner, Bureau of Local Health Service, Texas State Department of Health, Austin,

THIS WEEK IN THE CLINIC

J. E. Boyce, D. C.

Many members of the medical profession have spoken up vigorously at onetime or another in support of the principles of chiropractic, and many against it. Undoubtedly those who oppose chirpractic, know little or nohting about the science and are reluctant to investigate because of prejudiced background. Those who know what the science can do and have observed the remarkable results achieved by chiropractic AFTER medical methods have failed, to reveal that the chiropractor has indeed something to offer to those seeking health. Here are just a few quotations from leading physicians of past and present.

"What is the matter?. Why have we failed when the chiropractor has succeeded?" — B. V. Watts, M. D. — "There can be no disease which does not disturb the nerve cells concerned If the cause of the disturbance in these conducting pathways can be ascertained and removed, the patient will be cured. Otherwise treatment merely diverts attention from the truth." R. J. A. Berry, M.D.—"A vertebra shifted ever so little from its normal position produces enough pressure upon the emerging spinal nerves to cause more or less functional disturbance of the organ they ramify and energize." G. H. Patchen, M. D.

Below are cases from our files in which a vertebra shift produced nerve pressure and caused disease:

Case 254 had billious attacks, nervousness, vomiting & nausea for 4 years. Hospitalized for several weeks - no help. Entered this clinic - Examined, X-rayed and cause located. Results - No immediate improvement after first adjustment on Monday. Wednesday was a better day, no vomiting, good B. M., more relaxed and not so nervous. Appetite has improved tremendously and seems hunry all the time. Feels 100 per cent better since starting adjustments.

A boy, age 9, had swollen glands in neck, frequent colds, sore throat, & poor appetite. Examined & X-rayed - cause located and was adjusted. In a few days the sore throat was gone, and the swelling in neck glands receding. This boy is responding to adjustments in this clinic. Perhaps you have a sickly child. Won't you try chiropractic for your child's health. Case 256.

Quail Return In High Gear Over Texas

AUSTIN. — Nature and man are teaming up to sustain momentum behind the quail come-back movement, reports the assistant executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish commission.

Noting near perfect hatching conditions in many Texas areas, he announced that the manpower force is being spearheaded by a force just organized by the Commission.

Four trained wildlife biologists have been assigned to help shape the fur fung Commission [illegible] force into a compact unit for education and demonstration about creating proper quail habitat.

Key men will be state game wardens who will attend organizations meetings in four regions, to be handled by the biologists. This quartet include Daniel W. Lay of Buna, recognized nationally as an outstanding authority on quail restoration.

The assistant executive secretary said the wardens will work directly with farmers, ranchers, sportsmen's groups and other organizations joining the quail habitat program.

The commission authorized the movement in conjunction with the experimental quail hatchery being constructed near Dyer.

Rest Pastures After Rain

Since many ranches are carrying reduced numbers of livestock, producers should be able to defer one-fourth of their grazing lands without damaging the remainder, A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, says. This way many pastures can gain full advantage of recent soaking rains.

Pastures with most native grasses and vegetative cover will make the most recovery in a shorter period of time and should be deferred first, says Walker. Poorer pastures can be rested later since they may require several years to recover.

It's better to remove all livestock from a pasture than to leave it lightly stocked, he adds. Defer for three to six months, or until frost. But if the grazing is needed sooner, wait at least until the growing grasses mature and drop a seed crop. Deferring promotes seed and plant reproduction in addition to increasing the vigor of existing plants.

The specialist recommends moderately grazing the pasture during the winter. This method provides some forage for livestock and helps distribute plant seed.

Many ranchmen looking over their bare ranges are considering reseeding. In some instances reseeding may be warranted but deferment more often does the job cheaper. If as much as 15 percent of the "key" grasses are left, rest rather than reseed, the specialist suggests.

S. P. Railroads Pour Money Into Public Treasuries

One hundred dollars a minute, $144,343 every day of the year, is the rate at which Southern Pacific is pouring tax money into the public treasuries, according to D. J. Russell, president of the railroad.

In a message to his fellow railroaders published in the Southern Pacific Bulletin, the rail president said total taxes paid by Southern Pacific in 1954 amounted to more than $52,000,000 equal to 8.2 cents out of every dollar of revenue. Of this amount, more than $9,000,000 went for Federal Income taxes, more than $17,000,000 was paid to the Federal Government for Railroad Retirement, and more than $1,400,000 covered Federal Unemployment taxes.

State, county, city and miscellaneous taxes accounted for another $24,428,767, the rail president said.

Tornado Areas Allocated Funds

No specific areas in Kansas were named, but Kay and Jefferson counties wre singled out in Oklahoma.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER ADMITS PROSPERITY MAY BE AT PEAK, BUT IN HIS CASE IT'S JUST NOT ENOUGH

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River discusses prosperity this week, a matter he has only a theoretical knowledge of.

Dear Editar:

I know the country is supposed to be booming, making more cars than ever before in history, big manufacturers showing more profit, more workers taking home more pay, Internal Revenue department getting more taxes than ever before, but I was beginning to think I was all alone in finding out despite all the prosperity I hear about I never seem to have quite enough money to make ends meet.

However, I am pleased to know I have company. The Federal Government and most of the State Legislatures are in the same boat.

"General fund revenues the past year have been lower than anticipated," a news article I read in a paper last night reported, adding that the situation was causing the government to wonder how it was gonna stay out of the red.

I know exactly how it is. That's exactly my situation out here. Most of my prosperity doesn't last over a day or so. The minute

I get to feeling I have the thing licked, that everything is under control, a new expense crops up and the old familiar nip -and -tuck situation stares me in the face again.

I tell you, spending anticipated revenue is one of the most hazardous undertakings ever attempted. If a man could anticipate his expenses like he can his revenue, there might be some chance of getting even, but something always goes wrong, on my farm or in Congress. I can sit down now and figure up just how much my farm ought to make this year, how much the expenses ought to be, how much I ought to have left over, but when the crops are all in and the expenses all faced, my financial situation is as confused as Washington is over how big the Russian air force is.

I know the country must be at the highest peak of prosperity it ever experienced, I keep reading it in the papers, but I'm here to tell you it ain't enough. Everybody is making more money than he used to, but the number of people who can't quite make ends meet seems to be about the same. If my subscription is due, will you please hold up the bill a little while, three more years I want to count on just turned to biggest prosperity, me and the gov[illegible] in the midst of the country's biggest government can't seem to stay ahead.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Light travels faster than sound.

A penny and a cannon ball, dropped from a high place, would reach the ground at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Florida, Jr. and family, are on a two-week vacation, visiting this week with relatives and friends in Houston.

Handle With Care

Tractors are like horses—or mules—in more ways than one. They can be pretty tricky if you don't handle them right.

Too many tractor accidents happen because of carelessness. The day grows hot and drowsy, the job grows monotonous—and bingo! Someone forgets to throttle down when making a turn, or something, and there's a bad spill.

Credit Slim Hartman's missus for the fact that there's never been tractor trouble on their place. Midway through every morning and afternoon she brings him snacks. "He'll stay on the alert," she says, "if I get him off the tractor for ten minutes."

From where I sit, carelessness can cause plenty of harm in our off-the-job personal lives, too. For instance, suppose a neighbor prefers a glass of beer with supper. You might not share this particular preference with him—but if you're careless about protecting his right to choose, your own freedom of choice is in danger of being "plowed under."

Soil Conservation District News

Supervisors: Edwin Fischer, A. W. Butts, Paul C. Graves, Clarence L. Stock and Hal Hartrick.

Cornelius Titsworth, a co-operator with the Central Texas Soil Conservation District, has recently sodded seven acres of Coastal Bermuda grass on his farm in the Elm Ridge community.

The soil was conditioned by two years of hubam clover and the bermuda has been fertilized according to recommendations from the soil testing lab. This field will be grazed in rotation with twenty-five acres of native grass.

Mr. Titsworth asked the Soil Conservation Service technicans to aid him in developing a pasture program for his eighty acre farm.

Gordan Baskin has greatly changed the rate of water penetration on his farm in the Elm Ridge Community. Five years ago Mr. Baskin seeded a field to King Ranch Bluestem and overseeded it with Hubam clover. Before this treatment, the rain fall would run off the land before it could penetrate the hard plow pan. This spring the field was put back in cultivation. During the heavy spring rains, very little water has run off the field.

Mr. Baskin also increased the water holding capacity of the soil by returning organic matter from the grass to the land.

The fifty acre sedding of King Ranch Bluestem on Roy Law's farm in the Salem community has come up to a good stand. After the grass is well established, it will furnish grazing during the critical months of July, August, and September. It is during these months that native grasses need to be deferred for seed production.

This pond will aid in better grazing distribution between two pastures of Little Bluestem grass. Before the pond was constructed, one pasture could not be properly grazed because of the lack of water.

52 Polio Cases Reported For Texas Last Week

AUSTIN — Polio struck 52 times in Texas last week, the State Health Department reported Tuesday.

Simultaneously the National Polio Foundation said in New York that Texas won't get any Salk vaccine from the currently approved batch.

The week's polio incidence included 19 paralytic cases, 23 non-paralytic cases and 10 unspecified cases, State Health Officer Henry A. Holle said.

The count was up 15 cases from a week ago, and two more than the figure for the same week in 1954.

Dr. Richard White, epidemiologist for the State Health Department said if the new batch of Salk vaccine comes "in a week or two" he would have no doubt about the effectiveness of the first shots (begun April 19) wearing off.

Texas is scheduled to receive its vaccine from the next lot to be released, the National Polio Foundation said.

For the year there have been 149 paralytic, 129 non-paralytic and 62 unspecified cases of the disease, the health department said.

That compares with a figure at this time last year of 198 paralytic, 141 non-paralytic and 132 unspecified cases.

Dr. White said plans for distribution of the second batch of the Salk vaccine — when it does arrive — are the same as for the first.

It will be distributed to local health units as "quickly as possible," he said.

(EDITORS NOTE: The following article was brought in by a reader, with the request that we publish it. At the time of the original publication, O. F. McAnally, father of Mrs. R. L. Batte, Sr. was Editor of The Cameron Herald.)

A Sad Death

Mr. L. Dobbs, a young man living near Yarrellton was fatally injured by his horse dragging him for quite a distance on June 23, 1906. Mr. Dobbs was unsaddling his horse when, in some way, he was caught in the loop of the rope which was around the horse's neck, the horse became frightened and ran dragging the young man quite a distance his friends being unable to stop the horse. as he passed the gate the young man said, "Boys, catch him he is running with me," which were the last words he spoke. When the horse was caught the young man was so badly injured that he died on the morning of June 26th.

He was twenty-four years old, was born May 2, 1831, in Alabama, came to Texas with his parents in December, 1895, He joined the Baptist church in August, 1903 and has lived a consistent Christian life. He had said only a few days before his death to a number of young people that he was ready to die, and lived every day as if it were his last day on earth. He was laid to rest in North Elm cemetery, June 26th there to await the resurrection morn. His weeping father, mother, brothers and sisters should remember that their loss is his eternal gain.

Brother and Sister Dobbs requested me, in their behalf, to thank their neighbors and friends for their kindness and watchful care of their dear boy during his last hours, it will long be remembered by them. C. M. CARR

WASHINGTON, June 9—Citizens of an area bordered on the west by Florence and on the east by Schwertner along the Williamson-Bell counties line have appealed to Rep. Homer Thornberry for aid in replanting crops and replacing buildings damaged Sunday by high winds and hail.

They asked him to get in touch with the 11th district congressman Rep. W. R. Poage, to enlist his aid.

He has also asked Agriculture Secretary Benson to circularize their appeal in all agencies of the Agriculture department to see if some other sectional offices can help.

News & Views By Mrs. Hughes

Getting family members to eat an egg for breakfast may be pretty hard to do on these hot summer days, says Mrs. Alice G. Hughes, Milam Home Demonstration agent so, states Mrs. Hughes, "Orangegg, served in a frosty cold glass, is a fine way to get not only egg, but also orange juice."

Mix well with eight ounces of fresh or frozen orange juice and serve immediately in frosted glasses. This makes an excellent "quickie" breakfast. Try it sometime.

Mrs. Hughes also gives some timely tips on how to get the most out of the tomato season. Texas number of relatives and friends from Houston, Waco, Cameron, Rosebud, Jones Prairie and Clarkson.

Also a pink wrapped tomatoes are moving onto the market. They are a better product than green wrapped tomatoes. Like other vegetables, tomatoes are most economical when in season. One pound provides 4 servings. One No. 2 can provides 5 half-cup servings.

Look for tomatoes that are firm but not overripe, and are fairly well formed. They should be of good red color, plump, smooth, and free from blemishes.

Tomatoes and tomato juice are reliable sources of vitamin C, whether eaten raw, cooked or canned. To keep in good condition, store in the refrigerator.

Awing paint is recommended for summer fiber rugs by Extension home management specialists. This water-proof paint wears well, sinks into the fibers without giving them a "painted look" and dries with a dull surface. Housewives also report that paint helps fiber rugs war longer.

Applying the paint is easy. Place several layers of newspapers under neath the rug to profill with paint, then wife off excess on the inside lip of the can. Brush the paint over the rug — covering about a foot at a time. Brush well into all the crevices and holes of the fiber and allow rug to dry thoroughly before using.

Mr. Taggart said, "It is most important that each of us do everything possible to maintain the ties of home with these boys and girls in service so that their morale may be kept high while they are away, that their hopes of a decent future may be assured, and that they may return to us as good and useful citizens.

TP&L Company Named Winner Of 1954 Charles A. Coffin Award

Texas Power & Light Company Wednesday night was named winner of the electric industry's highest honor, the Charles A. Coffin Award for 1954, in ceremonies conducted at the 23rd annual convention of the Edison Electric Institute in Los Angeles.

The award was presented to W. W. Lynch, TP&L president, by Phillip D. Reed, chairman of General Electric Company, donor. The award is presented annually to the electric utility company judged as making the greatest contribution to the advance of the industry and service to customers. TP&L Company is the first company in the Southwest to win this award, which was established by the General Electric Company 33 years ago in honor of its first president.

In selecting the winner this year, the judges cited Texas Power & Light Company "for extraordinary enterprise and resourcefulness in uncovering and developing the extent and value of untapped natural rsources ..... and for its contribution to the industrial and agricultural development of Texas."

The judges, this year, were Harold Quinton, president of Edison Electric Institute, Dr. James R. Killian, Jr., president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and C. W. Kellogg, past president of Edison Electric Institute.

Important among the reasons Texas Power & Light Company won the award were its research program of preparing and using lignite in power plant boilers, pointing toward the development of a low-cost fuel for production of electric power, and the use of this natural resource for the further industrialization of the TP&L service area.

After some thirteen years of experience using lignite as a fuel for its Trinidad generating station prior to 1940, the Company, in 1948, began an extensive research program, working with the U. S. Bureau of Mines, to determine how Texas lignite could be used more effectively as a fuel.

The results obtained in this program were largely responsible for the location in Rockdale, Texas, of the Aluminum Company of America's new smelting plant.

In the citation by the Coffin Award judges, TP&L's lignite inhievements during the past year "nationally recognized to be of lities for economic exploitation of benefit to the industry and the public by opening up the potentia-developed deposits of lignite and other low rank, non-coking fuels".

TP&L's contributions to both industrial and agricultural development of Texas were mentioned in the Coffin Award citation. The utility company's research into such other resources as clay and iron ore and its economic program for attracting new industries to the "Texas Bright Spot," as the Company terms its service area, have resuled in the establishment of many new plants.

In the agricultural field, the Company is carrying on an expanded farm service program, with specialists in the field in direct contact with the farmer and his problems. Research on practical and economical application of electricity to farm operations is included among projects being carried on in cooperation with educational institutions and other established farm agencies.

The selection of the annual winner of the Charles A. Coffin Award begins with nominations by a panel of 35 persons, representing every section of the nation, who select those companies whose achivements during the past year are regarded by them to have been outstanding. Next, a review committee compiles and analyzes the information about the companies (this year numbering 28) cited by the nominating panel. From this group, the review committee selects the four or five they consider outsanding, which are invited to submit to the judges their respective prsntations in competition for the award. Four companies were so cited this year. They were: Arizona Public Service Company, Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company, Pennsylvania Power & Light Company, and Texas Power & Light Company.
